DOING FREELANCE jobs online from home as a Fiverr affiliate

For those of you new to this industry and wanting to become a freelancer you will find that Fiverr will tick all the boxes for you because it is the best freelancer website online

Fiverr is a relatively established company, opening its doors for business in February 2010. It was founded by two entrepreneurs called Micha Kaufman and Shai Wininger. The main idea of Fiverr was to create a platform where individuals could buy and sell digital service jobs. The services vary from writing content for blogs, translating languages, graphics designs, multi media and video production, web design and development and programming. The standard selling price is five US dollars, however, it can end up going into the thousands of dollars once the extras are added onto the projects.

WHY DID I BECOME A FIVERR AFFILIATE?

My name is Steve Jackson and I have been working online as a network marketer and an affiliate marketer for some years. Apart from making a good living from a few MLM businesses almost strictly online, I also enjoyed working with companies such as Clickbank and JVZoo. During this period I needed some jobs done on my website which involved translating. However, when I found out that they have one of the best affiliate platform online I decided to integrate into my existing businesses.

This experience has motivated me to write a review on what exactly it is and how it has helped me and may help others to make some extra money online and from home.

HOW DOES SOMEBODY use Fiverr?

WHAT IS FIVERR ALL ABOUT?

There are three sides of this platform, the first is the seller, which is the person who offers a service, the buyer who purchases the service and finally the Fiverr affiliate. As a note of caution, please remember that when buying something, in fact anything, "let the buyer beware". If you are purchasing a service for this website that you are unable to do yourself, ask yourself exactly what from the transaction and translate that to the seller. The likelihood you will both be communicating in a foreign language so state your requirements in simple and clear English. (If English is going to be the base language) Even though the seller may be getting great reviews for their jobs, the quality may not be to your standard, so ask to check their other work.

Gig jobs for a gig lifestyle

The gig I believe refers to the gig working culture, however in this sense it means the services or freelance jobs that the seller is offering to the customer. The prices may vary from as little as $5 to as much as $10000 depending on the service. Nevertheless, even if a gig costs $5 it doesn't mean that is the final cost, because there is normally extras jobs on top making the final price a lot higher.

In many ways Fiverr is much like other digital market places like Clickbank and JVZoo, however the main difference is that it is offering services rather than digital products. If you want to become a customer and buy the services, the first thing to do is ask questions about the service from the seller. Once you are happy with their answer, then consider purchasing the service. The point of Fiverr is to be the middle man between the buyer and the seller with the goal of making the end result satisfactory for both the buyer and seller. When the seller has completed the order or gig the buyer then confirms that the order is complete and Fiverr will pay the seller within two weeks. The payment time may be shorter for trusted members.

The affiliate's role is to market and promote the marketplace and services to the world. The affiliate marketer can easily boost their earnings by driving traffic to the platform, however the affiliate does already need to be somewhat knowledgeable about affiliate and online marketing to succeed.

IS FIVERR LEGAL AND CAN THE SYSTEM BE TRUSTED?

Yes, most agree that they are an upstanding and honest company that gives a save website environment for the buyer and the seller. If for example, if you are not happy with your purchases or jobs completion, you can report to the company that you did not receive the service you asked for.

Other aspects of this company worth mentioning is:

- Fiverr has a great customer support system (Tickets are answered within 24 hours)
- Refunds can be asked for in late delivers
- All payments are safe and secure
- There is a quality standard ratings on all freelance sellers

Is Fiverr the best freelancer website for newbies and online marketing pros?

In my opinion, the biggest problem for the buyer is the ranking system of the sellers. It is difficult to really understand if the service you are purchasing is going to be good or not. I have been lucky, but many have falling fail to bad quality services. My mantra that has helped me avoid this issue is, "if it looks too good to be true, it probably is". In other words, don't just look at the price. In the past I had my own engineering business and many customers would say that they could get a product or service cheaper somewhere else. I would suggest to them to take the best price if the service is the same. Often if not always, we would be asked to repair the shoddy jobs the other company had does. So, remember the best price is not the cheapest, it is the one that offers the best customer satisfaction.

BELOW I HAVE PUT A FEW TIPS TO GUIDE THE CUSTOMER TO THE RIGHT SELLER:

- Investigate seller a lot before committing to purchasing their service
- Ask lots of questions about the service the seller is offering
- Be warned about sellers from third world countries offering high quality services at only $5
- Beware of the fake rankings and reviews
- Once you have found a seller that offers a great service, save them, hold on to them and give them a review
- There are still good sellers on this forum offering $5 gigs, but it takes time to find them
- Check the gigs five star as well as the one star reviews, you might get a clearer picture of the seller
- Ask the seller for a sample of their recent work
- As a buyer, make sure that the service / product is delivered on time and is a benefit to your business
- Ask the seller what you are getting for your money

At the end of the day, it is all about common sense. If you think that something looks a bit odd, question the seller until you are happy with their response. However, regardless how unhappy you are with the service, Fiverr will resolve the issue and refund the money if you are not completely satisfied with the service.

CAN THE BUYER REALLY SAVE MONEY?

If you are a sole trader or running a part-time business Fiverr is a great place to budget your business. If you can find a reputable seller that offers a service for $5 you are on a winner. However, sometimes it is better to pay a bit more and get your work delivered on time and the quality to want. Over time you will find quality sellers that will be able to provide you with all the services you require. If you get it right you can not lose, because frankly, good sellers are looking for loyal customers.

I want to be a seller on Fiverr, but what can I sell?

I always tell people new to this platform, to ask themselves what skills and knowledge they already have. From them consider what would customers be willing to pay for?

We all have talent, we all have skills and we all have knowledge to share, but if someone wants to buy it is a very different story.

The main premise is to make money from selling skills that customers do not have or do not have the time to complete. Some services are in high demand and others are not, but finding your niche will keep you in the money for years to come. This of course means that you have to offer a good quality service and get a few good reviews. At that point you can start expecting more money for your services.

What should I do, if I do not have any skills?

Unfortunately, it is difficult to offer a service if you can not do the jobs yourself. The only solution is to learn some new skills in one or more of the disciplines the digital customer demands. Some skills are totally learnable from home, however, if you need more support I would suggest a learning platform called Skillshare. This platform offer education in my discipline such as SEO, marketing and digital design and at the moment, it is free for 60 days.

I have the skills, now I want to make money online?

There are many options for making money online, however the main idea is to create you personal niche. Something that is hard to find, but needed but customers all over the global. However, for those who do not want to sell their own product or service, consider becoming an affiliate.

Signing up as a Fiverr affiliate

From some of the reviews I have read, they are offering one of the best affiliate program available online. My experience with other companies has allowed me to put a critical eye over this program. However, at this point I will say that, this program does tick all the boxes for income and simplicity.

The main reasons for becoming an affiliate is:

The affiliate gets the maximum earnings possible through this program.

- The affiliate gets paid for every first time buyer with no referral limit
- The affiliate receives high quality professional support, tutorials and a dedicated Affiliate manager
- The affiliate uses a simply dashboards to launch, manage and monitor campaigns
- The affiliate gets marketing resources and a portfolio of high-performing creative assets to help you promote

CONCLUSION TO DOING FREELANCE JOBS ONLINE FROM HOME

Fiverr is with all its faults is the best freelancer website and great opportunity for the online marketer to make money online and in many different ways. If the buyer can find a good and reputable seller they will be happy they did, because this is the most affordable way of getting online services for their businesses. However, the world is not always that simply and like anything there is always someone wanting to hustle the customer rather than give them a good service. Happily the mass of the people are great and passionate people that want to give you the best service possible. Through there are many sellers doing their best, I suggest relying on your own knowledge and experience rather than expecting the sellers world view on what is good practice and quality.

The customers and the sellers are of course a very important aspect of this platform, however, the article would be nothing if I didn't mention the affiliate program. The simplest way to get into online marketing is becoming an affiliate with one of the digital marketing companies or in this case online service businesses. The main reason for joining this program is its simple message and concept. If you create content or you are a blogger, you already have the tools and the skills to make a lot of money from this platform without even needing to make or develop and gig or service.

If I was starting a new in this industry, I would not hesitate to use this platform to make money online from home, but what is even better, regardless if you are a beginner or a pro, there is money to be made from Fiverr.
